ADDRESS TO THE PEOPLE OF LOUISIANA.

REPUBLICANS DEMOCRATIC AND CONSERVATIVE, STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE, Of the State of Louisiana.

To the People of Louisiana:

The Conservative people of Louisiana, in convention assembled at Baton Rouge, determined, with remarkable unanimity, to participate in this political campaign. It did not come to them lightly, but after long and painful deliberation.

The Radical leaders and managers felt the spontaneous movement of the masses, and they were not slow in devising schemes to keep, by with the artificial creatures, in order to frustrate the result. It became evident that a fair and honest registration and election was again out of the question.

The matter was tested when application was made by the Conservatives for an equal number of registrars and supervisors of election. This application was unhesitatingly rejected; but, as a matter of grace, the de facto Governor proposed that two names from each ward of New Orleans and parish of the state should be submitted to him, from which he would select registrars, and if any of the persons indicated were suitable, appointation as clerk of registration, would be tendered to him; otherwise no consider, giving what he considered proper guarantees would be tendered to the Conservatives to provide a new ticket, the interview there ended.

But discouraged, however, at having to cope with such odds, and with organized fraud staring them in the face, the Conservatives still adhered to their purpose to place Conservative candidates in the field, and, express and explicit Republican combinations.

In the meantime the feelings of the people had been running high. Taxation imposed by a usurpatory government, amounting to confiscation, burdens and was being unceremoniously collected, while the money, wrung from the people, had been criminally engaged in sending up local taxes beyond possibility of compliance on the part of owners of property.

Peculation and corruption were rife throughout the state government, and, to cover up detection, organized to overawe the people, where not policing the city of New Orleans, were occasionally invading the rural parishes with all the paraphernalia of war, to enforce, not the decree of justice, but the behests of a corrupt ring, who, to keep the control, the usurpatory government, appeared constantly engaged in inciting hostilities between the blacks and whites, for the nefarious purpose of reaping political advantages, even at the crisis of both races. The colored people had been craftily led to form themselves into a secret society, popularly known as black leagues.

Arms had been and were being furnished to them; and they were instructed in feelings of new hostility, although in reality they had nothing to complain of, and, if they had, the proper tribunals were prompted them, on the contrary, to rain vain mutual relations of amity. Under such unusual events it became a matter of prudence on the part of the Conservative to organize white leagues for their own protection, should occasion arise.

That a citizen has the right to purchase and bear arms, would seem to be an indisputable proposition. And yet the de facto Governor pronounced it illegal in a proclamation, he boldly announced, to disarm the white people.

The result was the 14th of September, 1874.

That memorable day has convinced the colored people that their have nothing to fear from their white fellow-citizens. It has opened the eyes of the people of the Union to the impression that the white people are not the enemies. That day is an era in the history of the reconstruction of the Southern States.

The President has reinstated in power the Kellogg Government; but, in the light of these events, it is a question of grave doubt if it will even had acquiesced in the usurpation are sufficiently depraved.

The dispersion of the metropolitan brigade, the demoralization of the colored militia (the only militia known in this state), and the rallying of the state Government, in the face of the assembled hosts of the country, will, we hope that mistake could have some basis. Hence, the Presidential proclamation was no sooner heralded, but he managed to inaugurate conferences to adjust the difficulties. A committee of conference, selected by Kellogg, was composed of men selected by Gov. McEnery and Lieut. Gov. Penn.

After several days labor the conferences were brought to a stand by the refusal of the Republicans to procure three vacancies from among the five members of the returning board, two vacancies, with the understanding that the vacancies were to be filled by Republicans, while the third vacancy would be filled by a Republican acceptable to all parties. Their counter proposition was that two vacancies would be allowed to the Conservatives, the Republicans retaining three of the members, and the fifth member to be selected from the Conservatives.

This matter was then called to the attention of this State Central Committee; and, by a resolution adopted by said committee, a renewal of the conferences was effected, with a view of making the agreement, which was consented. The negotiations were then transferred to the members of the State Central Committee, supposing the two political parties in the State. This response, fully was properly assumed by such committee, as the negotiations only effected questions with the Conservatives, and not with the Republicans. The question of the integrity of the State Government, most remains unconsidered and uncompromised, and no question of principle has been compromised or sacrificed.

We have thus given in details does not operate to withdrawal of the Louisiana case from the Congress of the United States. If not fully convinced why by the other party it will only accumulate evidence of the hopelessness of the efforts made by our people to rid themselves of a corrupt government, which, we say, we have always contended to be, and we are, a law-abiding people. Our reputation at home as I abroad, our business interests, our desire to be our State, demand at our hands peace, order and good government. The people must be the preserve of the agreement, and the Conservatives have done all in their power to claim that we are in any sense responsible for the disorders in this State; and we formally protest against any such charge. We merely for pledge ourselves to lend our aid and influence to the maintenance of peace and good order, and to the enforcement of the laws, and to call upon the people of our political adversaries that they shall in future refrain from acts calculated to provoke violence.

We have made the strongest appeals upon the Conservative people to register and vote. Under the advance against a divided and distracted enemy. Under the guarantees secured to us, we have confidence at stake, with the same firmness, vigilance and determination with which we have fought so far, every Louisiana citizen should exercise his rights and discharge his duties to make good our offer to repeal declaration that the majority of the voters of this State are in favor of an honest, pure and stable government of State.

L. BECKER, Jr.
PETER COYLE,
J. TIBOUT,
Committee.

Wilderhand of Mayor Wilz.

To R. H. Marr, Esq., President Parish Convention:

Dear Sir—It is manifest that the action of the Convention over which you had the honor to preside, (as far as the majority question is involved) has thrown our party into a state of indecisions and turmoil which it becomes the part of patriotism and of duty now to allay. Whatever may be the wrong to which I have been subjected, the path of duty lies open before me; the path I intend to tread.

I am, with respect, LOUIS A. WILTZ.

AMUSEMENTS.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—This popular place of amusement was well filled last night with a large and appreciative audience. The programme, as upon the nights previous, consisted in the wonderful performances of Kohlmann's Trans-Atlantic Combination Troupe, who took the house by storm, by strong, and elicited frequent and vociferous applause. To speak candidly, the Schumann's Combination is a success in every regard, and one never time of witnessing their performances each and every performer being, in their respective parts, a thoroughly good one. We have seen, with a regard sanitarium for ladies and children, and on Monday the Schumanns will put on an entire new programme, and we know the new stars are daily expected to join their company.

THE WORRELL SISTERS' SERENADES.—Last night the St. Charles Hotel was made lively by the strains of sweet music floating upon the air. The serenade was given by the band of the Globe Theatre in honor of the Worrell Sisters' arrival, who are engaged at the Kittredge at the Globe to open the season's entertainments. The ladies appear at the Kittredge on Monday in a new and novel piece, and many friends of Mr Kittredge, as well as the performers engaged at his theatre, congregated among whom were Mr. B. Cox Jeff, comedian, late of the Lydia Thompson troupe, and the well known artist, Harry McCarthy.

Kit was also present and did the honors in his usual pleasing style. After the interchange of good wishes the party departed, with recollections of the pleasant evening. In connection with this notice we would mention that on Monday evening, the 12th instant, the Globe Theatre, much improved, will open to the public with many pleasing attractions, and all who would pass a few hours of pleasure should secure seats at once, as the demand for tickets has far exceeded anticipations of the management.

GAIETY THEATRE.—The attendance at this place was not as flattering as upon the previous evening, although a goodly audience was present to witness the many songs, dances and burlesques which were brought out in good style. The dances of a good variety performance can pass away a few hours pleasantly at the Gaiety Theatre, corner Bacourse and Common streets.

The following dispatch was received last evening by Mr. Bidwell, and as Miss Adelina Cotrille will appear in this city about the time of the Carnival, it will be read with interest:

NEW YORK, Oct. 8, 5:30 P. M.

Residence of Rosier, New Orleans:

Vedalia Cotrille's debut superlatively triumphant. A revelation of voice, force and training never surpassed. Seven calls after her rondo.

MAX MARETZEK.

A new wing is being added to the State Prison at Auburn, New York, for the confinement of prisoners arrested under the Ku-Klux act in Louisiana; and, it is hinted, a double track will be laid down hence in a few days, so that they may be transported thither without interrupting trade. Tom Collins is our authority for the above; he is still in town and can be referred to if necessary.

THE CITY.

A CONFIDENCE MAN.—Alphonse Jackson, a gentleman of color, and by profession a thief, accosted a man named Daniel Johnson, at the corner of Bienville and Chartres streets, and offered to sell him a fine gold ring for $5, which he tried to make the ignorant darkey believe was 18 carat gold. This he doubted at first, but, thinking he was a judge of gold, he took a small it, and gave it a trial by rubbing it on his wife's shirt to see if it would stand the test, and finding satisfied that the article was good, he gave the man the money and received the ring, which was found to be Brass, and the money he had in his possession.

It was some time before he gave in, but finally let him have the ring for that amount; just as this occurred, and after the money had changed hands, Special Officer Hennessy appeared on the scene, and knowing the peculiar character of the man, besides better informed by phone of what had taken place, pulled him into the Central Station.

TAKEN PRISONER.—Martin Michaelson, a native of Germany, was arrested yesterday from the corner of Carondelet and Poydras streets, on a warrant sworn to by John Stremm for obtaining money and goods under false pretenses.

TAKEN FROM A HOUSE.—About half past 8 o'clock last evening, a man named Joseph Ferrier, was arrested in the house of Conrad and Burbleu streets, the horse-tramps upon the left hand of Mr. Miller, in fleeting a severe wound. He was sent to the Charity Hospital, where medical aid was furnished.

BODY RECOVERED.—The body of a drowned white man, named Anthony Hubler, was found at 5 o'clock yesterday morning in the Third District Ferry Landing. Mr Hubler is about 42 years of age, and a shoemaker by occupation, he resided in Algiers, and had been missing since the 5th inst. Coroner Gruyer will hold the inquest this morning.

(From Yesterday's Evening Bulletin.)

ASSAULT WITH A DANGEROUS WEAPON.—Lizzie Lawson, a cigarette, was suddenly accosted this morning, at 1 o'clock, at the corner of Dryades and Poydras streets, in the act of picking rags and paper out of a bucket, by a man named Jim Cannon, a negro man, who was very drunk, and there sought hold of her and captured her look from the end of the stick, and pulled out a new razor and bowie knife and threatened to cut her to pieces, which she would have done, had Officer McNamara not been near at hand and arrested the case by hauling the gentle Cannon into the First Precinct Station.

UNTIED WE STAND.—Officer Smith arrested yesterday, in the parish of St. Bernard, a man named Chas. Martin for being drunk, and after pulling him along for some squares in the direction of this city, Annie Martin, a brother of the prisoner, came to his rescue and wanted the officer to let him go. This was refused by the policeman, who blew his whistle and had lock patten arrested.

SICK AND DESTITUTE.—A man named Henry Bradford, aged 35 years, a native of the United States, was sent to the Charity Hospital yesterday evening at 4 o'clock, from the Third Precinct Station, in a sick and destitute condition.

DRUNK.—Tanny Alexander, aged 19 years, was arrested on Carondelet, near Lafayette street, on a charge of insanity, preferred against her by her mother, Rosetta Alexander, she was locked up in the First Precinct Station to await the arrival of Dr. Amen, who will examine her condition.

THE HOUSEWIFE.—Rosetta Alexander, aged 46 years, a native of the United States, was sent to the Charity Hospital from police headquarters in a sick and destitute condition.

STOLEN PROPERTY.—Officer W. H. Chodgin, at 7:45 o'clock last evening arrested and locked up in the Fourth Precinct Station, one Philo Smith, a man that says himself that he has no occupation whatever, for having property supposed to have been stolen from the corner of Camp and Third streets, the place where the festive Philo was overhauled.

THE SONS DRAGS.—Another meeting last night, Mr. John McGuire, a native of Ireland, died suddenly at his residence, on Carondelet street. Coroner Gruyer has been notified and will hold an inquest.

THE PATTERSON MURDER CASE.—Moses Harvey was again brought before Judge McArthur for the murder of Wright Patterson on the night of the 11th of September. After examining the witnesses for the prosecution that were called when the case came up on the 3d instant, Judge McArthur said the case begin with a charge of manslaughter and not of murder and remanded Harvey to the Parish Prison without the benefit of bail.

THE COURTS.

SUPREME CRIMINAL COURT.—A nolle prosequi was entered in the case of Thomas Ryan, charged with the murder of Edward Ryan.

W. A. Jungkowitz was before the court this morning on a charge of forgery and will go to trial, the case was continued on account of the absence of Geo. H. Beaughe, counsel, who wished to file a plea in bar to the indictment.

William Parkey, alias many names and alias Jim Brown, charged with the crime of burglary and larceny and assaults sentence.

Jos. Sebb, Philip Dorsey, and Randall Andrews, being bird fanciers, robbed William Hopkins of a bird and cage. After robbing him they assaulted him and threatened to take his life if he told on them. The birds were recovered, the robbers are not long over twelve months. There is no doubt but Judge Pardee will gently their wishes by transporting them into little penitentiary his for a couple of years, and allowing them the whole of the State Penitentiary for their cage.

THE BOOT SEASON.—The fall season has commenced in earnest, not only for general merchandise, but especially for tickets for the opera and last Grand Gift Concert of the Public Library of Kentucky. As the 30th of November (the day of the drawing), approaches, the demand for tickets swells and swells till it rushes on like a mountain torrent, and threatens to exhaust the supply long before the day of the drawing. Everybody knows this is the last Concert, and that the scheme offered is more inviting than any ever offered in the world before, that there is $2,500,000 to be divided among the holders of 10,000 prizes, and that there is one prize to every five tickets. This makes a very busy season.
