TWO HORSES LEFT IN A SINGLE RACE.

Longbrook, Handicap Winner, the Only Successful Favorite,

Long Shots Getting Away With the Other Purses.

Bar Guard, Galen Brown, Twenty-Three and Adah Foy

The Other Conquerors—The Southern Athletic Club Elects New Officers.

There was a decided improvement in the weather yesterday over that of the day before and a fair crowd was out to witness the second day's racing of the spring meeting. In all probability a majority of them had cause to regret their presence, as betting choices were beaten in four of the five events. While the card provided was, aside from the handicap, sadly lacking in the matter of quality, the sport that came from it was decidedly interesting. close, driving finishes marking a majority of the events. The track had dried out some from the day before, but was still slow, and the time made in the day's chief race, the six furlong handicap, was more than creditable.

The dear public began wrong in the opening race, for which they made Princess Rose the liveliest kind of a favorite. Either the mare or her jockey had an attack of the slows, however, for she cut no figure in the race, though what looked like a bluff was made with her at the finish. Luke Parks, Bar Guard and Black Jack cut out the running and Bar Guard, who was at the false price of 6 to 1, lasted long enough to win by a neck, and all out, from Sir John, who came strong at the end.

The second race brought out a sorry lot, with Lena Frey and Lucasta about even favorites in the betting, and at a short price for horses that have not won since Jan. 1, which were the conditions of the race. Frey lasted three furlongs and died away to nothing, and Lucasta never was on the hunt at all. Galen Brown came from third place in the stretch and joined Artless and Nicaragua in a fight for the money, in which Galen Brown beat the other two, all three being outsiders in the speculation. Bonnie B pulled up lame.

That Twenty-three won the third race was due to the fact that Pettingill made the worst start of his life in the race. With a field of but seven he managed to leave Ansonia standing still and Brakeman not much better off. Ten Spring, the favorite, jumped at once to the lead and stayed there until the last eighth, when he began to tire, and Twenty-three came with a rush and beat him home by a length in a drive. Brakeman raced up to his field, but was so badly away that Mayberry pulled him up and cantered in, as he had no chance to get a place.

The highest class race of the day was the handicap at three-quarters of a mile, for which Longbrook was a hot favorite and medium of strong play by the plungers to get even. In spite of the fact that Midgley had the mount, Longbrook won in the easiest possible fashion, and Cass got the place about as handily. B. F. Fly, who was expected to cut some figure in the race was never in it, and was beaten away off. He ran as if stale.

A dozen bad 3-year-olds took advantage of the opportunity presented in the closing race to break from the maiden ranks or at least make an effort to do so. Shelby Boston, second choice in the betting, rushed away at the drop of the flag as if to make a runaway race of it, but by the time he had reached the sixteenth pole his bolt had been shot and in a spirited brush at the end Adah Foy won by a half-length from Hallow Eve, who was as far in front of the favorite, Glendaga. The latter seems to have been interfered with on the first turn and lost considerable ground, after which Baker rode a very easy race on him.

TRACK NOTES.

The card for to-day is by far the best yet offered at the spring meeting, and some interesting contests may be expected.

The Clyde Stable was in great luck yesterday, capturing two of the afternoon's purses, and giving L. Scott two winning mounts.

The start in the third race yesterday was but little short of disgraceful, when it is taken into consideration that the small field was at the post only eight minutes. Such a start would not have been a creditable one for a very novice at the business to make; for a professional it was absolutely without the shadow of an excuse.

It would not take many such efforts on the starter's part to destroy all confidence on the part of the betting public.

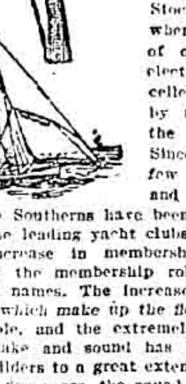
YACHTING.

THE SOUTHERN ELECTION.



To-MORROW night the members of the Southern Yacht Club will assemble in annual session at the Stock Exchange, when a new corps of officers will be elected, and the excellent record made by the club during the year reviewed. Since 1849, when a few yachtsmen met and organized the club, the Southerns have been looked upon as one of the leading yacht clubs in the country. Their increase in membership was steady, and now the membership roll has nearly a thousand names. The increase in the number of craft which make up the fleet has not been remarkable, and the extremely shallow water in the lake and sound has handicapped the yacht builders to a great extent. While, within the past five years, the squad of larger yachts has increased, and the general tendency of the yacht owners seems to lean towards the large, comfortable crafts, slowly the sand-baggers are passing out of existence. Many of the owners of small yachts are thinking seriously of having the rules of shifting ballast canceled, if possible, and requiring small crafts, as well as large ones, to sail only with stationary ballast. This will revolutionize the building of small vessels, and will create more of the modern vessels, after the fashion of the Lufki Humma, and the new sloop not yet completed. The season is so slightly advanced that yachting extends but little beyond discussion. However, within a few weeks, the larger crafts will be placed in commission, and the schooners rigged for the annual race for the Sully cup, which will be over a course of fifty miles.

Several of the more prominent members of the club a short time ago organized themselves into a campaign committee, and for days they have been extremely busy making up a ticket. It was the general wish that Lawrence O'Donnell should accept the position of commodore, and he will head the ticket. Mr. O'Donnell for years has been closely identified with yachts and yachting, and has built two of the fastest yachts of their respective classes that ever sailed in southern waters. The Nyanza, formerly the Lady Sarah, has proved by many races that she is one of the fleetest 22-footers in the club, while the cabin sloop Florence clearly outclasses the yachts with which she sails on even terms.

Commodore Alex Brewster, who for years has held the position of vice commodore, declined to run again, and in his place the committee selected Mr. Emile Baumgarden, owner of the famous sloop Lady Emma. Mr. Baumgarden has been a member of the club for a number of years, and has held a number of positions of trust, all of which he has filled with credit. This year he was a member of the governing committee.

Mr. Sam Heaslip will run for the position of rear commodore. Mr. Heaslip is one of the oldest members of the club, and one of the best sailors and truest yachtsmen. The schooner Viola he has sailed very successfully for a number of years.

Mr. L. D. Sampsell, one of the younger members, is placed on the ticket for the position of secretary. Mr. James Buckley, although not a yacht owner, is one of the most popular members of the organization, and during the year of 1894-95 he occupied the position of treasurer. It is the wish of the committee that Mr. Buckley should hold the position again.

From present prospects there will be but one ticket in the field.

THE OAR.

PREPARING FOR THE REGATTA SEASON.

Although it is nearly two months before the anniversary races of any of the four local rowing clubs, still the captains of the organizations are beginning preparations for the events and the meet of the Southern Rowing Association, which comes off in June.

The long months of winter have given the oarsmen sufficient rest and next week they will begin training for their club races. The men in the Crescent Rowing Club will begin work very shortly and the same state of affairs exists at the Louisiana Club.

Last Sunday the West End Club had out a four for a trial mile, preparatory to the beginning of the long and hard work of training. The men in the St. John Rowing Club have as yet not begun to train, but the captain is quietly selecting his crews for the double and four-oared sculls.

It is hoped that the annual meet of the Southern Rowing Association will be even more successful than in former years. The Pensacola Rowing Club, which is also a member of the association, has expressed its willingness and intention to send on several crews for the regattas. There will be a four, a double and two or three men for the wherry and junior and senior shell races. This will add life to the regatta, and the local men express their intention to begin work early and put themselves in as good condition as possible.

BILLIARDS.

ABRAMS DEFEATS ZAEHRINGER.

The sixth game of Miller's billiard tournament was played last night by Louis Abrams and William Zaehringer. The playing was not up to the standard of either gentleman. Abrams won the game in sixty-three innings, which places him on an equality with Moulds and Miller, and gives him a chance for the first prize. Each of these players has won two games and lost none.

The following is the score:

Abrams, 300; average, 4 48-63; largest runs, 31, 33 and 37.

Zaehringer, 175; average, 2 51-62; largest runs, 21 and 14.

To-night Moulds and Miller will play.

ATHLETIC.

NEW OFFICERS OF THE SOUTHERN CLUB.

PRESIDENT JOHN CLEGG.

The election of a board of officers and directors for the coming year was held last night at the Southern Athletic Club. The contest was a very animated one. At the annual meeting, about a week ago, Mr. B. Howard nominated what was understood to be the ticket favored by the outgoing administration. A movement was started to re-elect Mr. Baldwin for the coming term, but on account of his health, that gentleman refused the proffered honor. There were symptoms of opposition to Mr. Howard's nominees, with the result that during the week an opposing ticket was put into the field.

The two tickets were as follows:

Regular Ticket—President, John Clegg; vice president, J. C. Murphy; treasurer, Geo. S. Smith; financial secretary, B. F. Parkinson; recording secretary, J. Walker Ross; instructor, John Lombard; assistant instructor, Warren Johnson. Board of Directors—S. P. Walmsley, Elmer E. Wood, J. A. C. Wadsworth, J. Walton Glenny, Allen Mehle, Henry S. Courtney, J. G. Harrison, L. E. Bowman, James Buckley.

"The Worker's" Ticket—President, John Clegg; vice president, John A. C. Wadsworth; treasurer, Geo. S. Smith; financial secretary, N. P. Dewar; recording secretary, J. Walker Ross; chief instructor, John E. Lombard; assistant instructor, Walton Robertson. Board of Directors—C. H. Charlton, Jr., Henry W. Robinson, Andrew J. McShane, B. F. Parkinson, James C. Murphy, Albert F. Schwartz, Henry S. Courtney, John D. Britton, John G. Harrison.

These tickets were actively espoused by the club members, and the polls, when opened at 5 o'clock yesterday evening, were very animated. About 630 members out of the club membership voted. The polls closed at 9 o'clock, and at midnight the tally was completed, with the following result, showing a prominent fusion of both tickets:

President, John Clegg; vice president, John C. Murphy; treasurer, Geo. S. Smith; financial secretary, N. P. Dewar; recording secretary, J. Walker Ross; chief instructor, John E. Lombard; assistant instructor, Walton Robertson.

Directors—J. G. Harrison, H. S. Courtney, C. H. Charlton, A. J. McShane, J. D. Britton, Jr., Henry W. Robinson, Elmer E. Wood, A. F. Schwartz and Allen Mehle.

Of the board, Mr. John Clegg, the president, is well known in many circles of the city. He is a lawyer of distinguished ability, formerly a brilliant ornament of the bench, and now a prominent practitioner before the local bar. He has been identified with Masonic movements, and is a noted member of that fraternity. His selection for the important office of the presidency was favorably received by all.

Mr. J. C. Murphy, the vice president, is president of the Sugar Exchange, and one of the most prominent men of the state.

Mr. Smith, the treasurer, succeeds himself, as also does Mr. J. Walker Ross, the secretary. Mr. Lombard, the instructor, is a gymnast with whom the public is already acquainted. He replaces Prof. Gearhart.

The selection of these officers is accepted as a good omen for the club's future, as the conduct of affairs can with safety be trusted to these experienced hands.

THE RAIL.

ANNUAL HANDICAP.

New York, April 2.—The third annual grand American handicap at live pigeon shooting will begin on Thursday morning at Willard's park, Paterson, N. J. The amateurs and professional wing shots from nearly every state in the union have entered and an interesting contest is looked for.

"Droppers" will not be heard of in this year's shooting, as the three highest guns will score for the money.

To-morrow's tournament will consist of sweepstakes, in which the "shooters" will try their nerve and get a line on their possibilities of success in the big event which will begin on Thursday morning.

BASEBALL.

THE YOUNG MEN'S GYMNASTIC TEAM.

THE offering of a trophy by the Southern Division of the Amateur Athletic Union for the champion baseball team, seems to have awakened all the old love for the sport, and men who have not played ball in years have asked for positions on the team. The few representatives of the four athletic clubs who arranged the plan for the league were extremely anxious to get matters under way, and in doing so overlooked a very important point. When the schedule for the games was arranged it was decided to hold two games each Sunday. This will not be allowed by the union, for the organization is opposed to any class of athletic championship events taking place on Sunday. Yesterday this point was laid before several of the prominent ball players, and, after considerable discussion, it was thought that even if the union would not allow championship events to be held on Sunday a separate league will be organized, and the men will play for a pennant. This matter will be brought before the next meeting of the board of managers, when some definite plan will be decided upon.

Last evening a meeting was held by the baseball players of the Young Men's Gymnastic Club, and all arrangements made for the coming season. F. J. Mastin, captain of the nine, presided at the meeting, and quite a discussion was held on the subject of uniforms, which seemed to be the most important business to be transacted. The club will wear the black and old gold of the gymnastic club, but exactly how these colors will be distributed is as yet undecided. Captain Mastin, who has been playing ball under the Young Men's colors for years, has selected some fourteen players, from whom he will choose his regular men and substitutes.

L. J. Walle, one of the old ball players from Spring Hill College, will doubtless be one of the pitchers. He has been a member of the club but a short time, but his work in the little club league proved that he was an old hand at the game. J. Davis is the probable catcher. For six or seven years he has been a member of the nine and made a good record for his skillful manner in putting balls down to second. M. Woulfe, one of the oldest players of the club, will be a candidate for first base.

V. Demoruelle, one of the fastest runners of the club, is also a candidate for the position of first baseman. He is one of the new generation of players, but has proved himself very skillful.

Walter Frank, possibly one of the oldest amateur players in the city, will be second baseman. R. Deboys, a Tulane player, will be assigned to third base, while Ed Thiery, who has played in a number of amateur games, will be short stop.

C. Kreber, another old player, will be given right field as his territory. Captain Mastin himself will play left field. His baseball reputation is an excellent one.

E. Aurich, the gymnast and athlete, will be made center fielder. F. O. Reinecke, who has played ball with the Young Men's, as the players say, "since the year one," will be a second catcher, and L. Sicard will be a substitute and pitcher, while B. J. Walle will act as a substitute for any position.

The team will be brought out for its first practice game on next Sunday forenoon at the Sportsman's park.

SHREVEPORT 10, LITTLE ROCK 5.

Shreveport, La., April 2.—(Special.)—One of the liveliest contests in ball circles was witnessed this evening at the park. The Little Rocks and the Grays played an exciting game, and both teams did their best. Shreveport secured 10 runs to Little Rock 5. Batteries—Briggs and Corcoran, for the visitors; Keefe and Cook, for the Grays.

LABOR.

Nearing the End.

Pittsburg, April 2.—The strike of the flint glass workers against the United States Glass Company, which has been on for nearly twenty months, seems to be nearing an end. With the resignation of Ralph Baggaley from the presidency of the company and the election of D. C. Ripley to the position the policy of the concern towards organized labor has changed. A meeting of the directors of the company will be held on Thursday and the glass workers feel confident that it is with a view to ending the strike. On this point President Ripley refuses to talk, but he does say that the relations between the company and the American Flint Glass Workers' Union are closer now than at any time since the beginning of the strike. The United States Glass Company comprises factories all over the country and controls the flint glass trade.

Favorable to the Strikers.

Pittsburg, April 2.—The executive board of the Pittsburg District United Mine Workers is in session here to-day. No information will be given out and all that is known is that the strike is the subject under discussion. It is not considered probable that the meeting will develop any weakness on their part. The outlook is favorable for the strikers. This fact will lessen the probabilities of the strikers accepting the compromise rate of 60 cents offered by the railroad operators.

Raised the Rent.

Uniontown, Pa., April 2.—The coke workers were greatly excited to-day when informed that the rents of the company's houses had been advanced from 30 to 40 per cent and the talk of a general strike throughout the region is general. The men claim that the recent advance of 16 per cent in wages, which went into effect yesterday, was only a ruse to prevent a strike, as they will not be benefited in the least by it. A convention will be held to-morrow to consider the matter.

Ohio Miners' Meeting.

Columbus, April 2.—The State Miners' Association met here to-day with 150 delegates. Local 137, of Gloucester, was admitted by representation. Patrick McBryde protested, claiming No. 137 had withdrawn from the National Miners' Association and representation given to them in the state association would take the state organization out of the national. This was denied. McBryde went away then and got proof of his statement.

AN ELECTION FIGHT

Resulted in the Fatal Shooting of George Thorn.

St. Louis, April 2.—The saloon of Louis Ceilla, candidate for the house of delegates, at Twenty-first and Washington avenue, was the scene of a cowardly murder at noon to-day. George W. Thorn, a watchman, employed at the Madison race track, and who lived in this city, was fatally shot by C. A. Day. Thorn was taken to the city hospital, where it was said he could not live more than a few hours. Day was arrested and locked up in the Chestnut street station. Thorn was in Ceilla's saloon, known as The Place, with some friends, when Day entered. Immediately afterwards the shooting began. Day and Thorn each fired several shots, but Thorn missed. Two bullets from Day's pistol entered Thorn's left breast and shoulder, and he fell to the floor. Day ran out of the front door, pistol in hand, and went over to the Sickles Saddlery Company's place, across the street, where he stood behind the stone facing of the door. The crowd of Thorn's friends followed and many pistols were drawn. Day began shooting and emptied his revolver, but he hit no one. The fire was returned, but without result. Day then retreated into the Sickles store, and, running up stairs, secreted himself. He remained in hiding until officers arrived and placed him under arrest.

At the scene of the shooting it was impossible to get trustworthy details of the affair. Thomas Taffe claimed to be an eye witness. He said that Day entered the saloon drunk and was looking for trouble.

The following was said to be the other side of the story, and the more probable: This morning Day went to the four courts to swear out a warrant against William Ward for fraudulent voting. The warrant was given to Deputy Sheriff Huppert to serve. Day went with him to identify the man wanted. Ward was in Ceilla's saloon with Thorn and several others. When Day and the officer appeared the crowd jumped on Day, who fired in self-defense, with the result as stated.

Thorn, who has a wife and three children, is 33 years old and has had the reputation of being a desperate man when drunk. Day is rather a fine-looking young fellow, of perhaps 28 years of age. His victim at last accounts was still alive, but unable to last long.

Mrs. Ella Lagniel.

Bay St. Louis, Miss., April 2.—(Special.) Mrs. Ella Lagniel, wife of Oscar Lagniel, aged 30, died this morning after an illness of two weeks. Her remains have been sent to New Orleans for burial.

BAD STREETS AND THE LACK OF WATER

Responsible for an Extensive Conflagration in Algiers,

The Greater Portion of Two Squares Burning Away.

Although the Loss is Estimated at $10,000,

Many Modest Little Homes Were Reduced to Ashes in the Midnight Blaze.

Some time ago Commissioners Simpson and Pitot, of the fire board, were sent as a committee to look into the fire department of Algiers, and they reported at the next meeting of the board that the department at Algiers was badly in need of improvements. Any one who saw the fire which raged in that little across-the-river city last night, costing nearly $10,000, would certainly agree with these commissioners that a better system was badly needed there.

Last night a fire broke out in Algiers about 10:30 o'clock and continued burning until nearly 2 o'clock, destroying in the course of its ravages nearly two blocks of residences and stores, and with it over $9000 worth of property, not including a lot of furniture.

The fire department of which that city boasts proved utterly unavailable, and the fire burned until there was nothing left for flames to feed upon.

Promptly at the first alarm the fire companies, of which there are only three, turned out. Engines Nos. 18 and 19 stuck in the mud before they had gone a block, and but for engine No. 17 the fire would have been much more rapid in its progress. This company, as it has done in the past, ran its engine down to the river, onto a flatboat, and through nearly half a mile of hose, reached the fire in time to intercept it at every corner. The brisk wind from the southeast, however, was too much for the valiant little engine, and despite its stream, the fires continued to burn until all the available material had been consumed.

It was a very pitiful sight, the flames raging all about, women and children, as well as men, standing helpless while the fire destroyed all their possessions, none able to lend a staying hand.

The fire started in the little one-story frame house No. 68 Bouny street, spread rapidly and before any fire company put in an appearance eat its way to No. 70, next door, thence through the block to Alix street. Thence the flames, unabated by water, spread on all sides, and in a short time some seven or eight houses in the block were on fire. Before it was over ten houses in the area bounded by Alix, Bouny, Pelican avenue and Seguin street were in ashes. Only the short, stubby brick chimneys looming up through the smoke were witnesses to the pretty homes which once existed there.

Following is a partial list of the burned houses:

Salvador Romans, grocery and bar, corner Bouny and Pelican avenue; no insurance.

George Washington, No. 70 Bouny street, one-story frame residence; insured in the Germania for $700.

Mrs. Griffin, No. 68 Bouny.

D. G. Waters, Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Marie lost their furniture in the middle of the block on Alix street; no insurance.

Mary Watson and Sarah Horne lost all their furniture; no insurance.

Mrs. Montgomery, living in George Washington's house, lost all her furniture.

Alfred Clarke's house on Alix street was destroyed.

Mrs. Crane lost two small houses, both of which, however, were insured in the Herbert agency for $900.

Vincent Woods lost his house, corner of Bouny and Alix, which was occupied at the time as a bar and grocery.

Up to this time the fire had remained on the north side of the street, but by midnight, a swift sudden wind blew the flames across the street and caught the house occupied and owned by Ed Casey; also one owned by Francis Facolus, the latter of which was destroyed, the former being only damaged severely.

The valiant little engine No. 17 here finally got an opportunity to do some good work, having plenty of water. It was largely due to the work of this engine that all that portion of the town did not burn.

Craig's house was occupied by himself and his sister, Mrs. Dabelstein, both of whom lost all their furniture, covered by only $900 insurance.

A lot of furniture was destroyed which had been removed from the burning building across on the north side of Alix street, so that it is a hard matter to tell the total loss.

The entire town turned out to see the fire, and many were the denunciations heard on every hand of the manner in which the city had been treated by the water works company and by the city council.

The streets of Algiers, just following the heavy rains of the night before, were in a very bad condition, the engines having to make their way through mud up to the hubs of the wheels. Not only this, but there was water all over the streets, a regular lake, and impassable.

But for the bad streets the fire might have been intercepted and a great deal of property saved.

ACTIVITY IN SILVER.

Mr. Colegate Believes It All a Speculative Feature.

New York, April 2.—Activity in silver, which has been noted of late, continued yesterday, when about 300,000 ounces were sold in the market here.

In speaking last night of the silver market and the causes and prospects of the present movement, Mr. Starr Colegate, of the firm of Nesslage, Colegate & Co., said:

"The movement began on account of the news from Germany favoring a bimetallic conference. It was helped when a motion that seemed to lead toward such a conference was made in the English house of commons. The news of peace negotiations between Japan and China, to carry a large indemnity in silver, also had propelling force. A good deal of silver is now under lock. It will come out fast enough when speculators believe that the advance is over.

"I cannot see in the movement," Mr. Colegate said, "much beyond the speculative feature. Talk of bimetallic action by Germany and England seems to have subsided. If it is to be revived, it must be done by those countries. A debtor country, like the United States, cannot lead in such a movement. We have had silver without inviting others.

"In regard to an indemnity to be paid by China, it has seemed to me that gold might be demanded. Dispatches speak more of silver, but Japan is earning a reputation as a country of advanced ideas, and it may be that talk there of putting the finances on a good basis is done to emphasize its demand.

Mrs. Williams Arraigned.

Columbus, Ohio, April 2.—Mrs. H. B. Williams, who murdered two of her children at the Park hotel yesterday, was arraigned in police court this afternoon on two charges of murder in the first degree.

The accused waived examination and was ordered held without bond to await the action of the grand jury.

Mr. Williams, who was under arrest, was released to-day by order of the coroner, and the little daughter, Annie, was placed in the care of Mrs. John C. Lester, a friend of the family.

Mrs. Williams seemed to have entertained the most bitter enmity toward her husband and says the only reason she can give for murdering her children is that she did not want them to suffer at the hands of their father, as she had suffered.

Train Robbing a Capital Offense.

Jefferson City, Mo., April 2.—Governor Stone to-day approved a house bill under which train robbing is made a capital offense, should a jury decide to inflict so serious a penalty. The penalty ranges from hanging to imprisonment in the penitentiary.

SCROFULA

Miss Della Stevens, of Boston, Mass., writes: I have always suffered from hereditary Scrofula, for which I tried various remedies, and many reliable physicians, but none relieved me. After taking six bottles of SSS I am now well. I am very grateful to you, as I feel that it saved me from a life of untold agony, and shall take pleasure in speaking only words of praise for the wonderful medicine, and in recommending it to all.

COTTAGES CONSUMED

In a Fire on North Rampart Street.

Last evening, at 7:55 o'clock, an alarm was sounded from box 515 for a fire that originated through some unknown cause in the kitchen of the one-story frame house No. 855 North Rampart street, owned and occupied by Mrs. R. Nesson as a residence and notion store. The building and contents were totally destroyed. The building was valued at $1600 and insured in the Southern Company for $1300. The stock was valued at $3000 and insured for $1800 in the Lafayette Company. The furniture was valued at $1000 and insured for $800 in the Milwaukee Company.

The flames then spread to and destroyed the following cottages:

No. 857 Rampart street, a one-story frame building, owned by Mrs. R. Nesson and occupied jointly by N. Kaufman and Emile Gam. The building was valued at $1800 and insured for $1400 in the Southern Company. Kaufman's furniture, which was valued at $700, was insured in the Teutonia Company for $400. Mr. Gam's furniture, which was consumed, was valued at $400 and insured for $300 in the Wood's agency.

The single cottage, No. 859 Rampart street, owned by Mrs. Louisa Schultzer and occupied by Mrs. C. Stumpf. The house was valued at $200. Mrs. Stumpf's furniture, which was destroyed, was valued at $100, covered by insurance in the Southern company.

The double cottage, No. 861 Rampart street, owned by Mrs. Louisa Schultzer and occupied jointly by Mr. John Stumpf and eGorge Lanwehr. The building was valued at $1800. Mr. Stumpf's furniture was damaged to the extent of about $100, covered by insurance in the Southern Company.

Mr. Lanwehr's furniture was damaged to the extent of about $100, covered by insurance in the Teutonia Company.

NICKEL-IN-THE-SLOT.

The Police Ordered to Resume the Interrupted Crusade.

The order regarding the nickel-in-the-slot machines from appearances must have been neglected, judging from another order which Acting Chief of Police Journee issued to the force.

Some time ago the police were instructed to suppress those machines which were placed in barrooms throughout the city, and the order was rigidly enforced, but since the labor troubles, which required the attention of the police on the levee, the machines have been placed in operation again. The last order reads as follows:

APRIL 1, 1895.

To all Precinct Commanders: Attention is again called to the running of slot machines without the mayor's permit. You will give positive instructions to members of your force to make a close inspection, and any such machines found without the proper permit instruct the owner to go to the mayor's office and take out a permit. These instructions to be read to your force at two consecutive roll calls. JOHN JOURNEE, Acting Chief.

The officers have been informed that wherever they found one of the machines they were to notify the owner that he would have to secure a permit or a license, and if he did not, after being notified, an affidavit would be made against him.

LIPPMAN'S CHECK

Not Yet Proven Worthless, and the Case Postponed.

Yesterday Mr. Leonard Lippman, the traveling representative of the New York Typewriter Repairing Company, and who styles himself as a typewriter doctor, had a hearing before Recorder Whitaker on the charge of obtaining $25 on a worthless check from Louis Grunewald.

The prisoner was represented by Judge Morris Marks. Mr. Grunewald stated that the check had been passed on Mr. W. A. King, the bookkeeper at the hotel. Mr. Grunewald telegraphed to the Bank of New York in reference to the check and received an answer to the effect that the firm named had no funds in the bank.

The bookkeeper stated that he cashed the check, as he thought it to be genuine. Lippman had requested him to hold the check for a few days or a week, and the next morning returned him the $25.

As it was not proved that the check was fraudulent, and the court would not accept the telegram as evidence, the case was continued until the 10th inst., in order to allow Mr. Grunewald time to send the check to New York and have it stamped by the bank.

BURNED ABOUT THE ARMS.

On Tuesday, in the forenoon, Mrs. Lewis, wife of Officer Lewis, residing on White street, near Clio street, was seriously burned about the arms by her dress taking fire. The unfortunate lady received medical attendance from a physician residing near by and was, also, kindly cared for by the ladies in the neighborhood.

Tennessee's Anniversary.

Nashville, Tenn., April 2.—In nearly all the schools of the state to-day was observed with appropriate ceremonies as the 105th anniversary of the admission of Tennessee as a territory. In this city fully 10,000 people, including many school children, assembled on Capitol hill, and amid the booming of cannon and patriotic music from bands, a tree from Watagua, east Tennessee, was planted. Addresses commemorative of the occasion were delivered. The legislature attended in a body. In many towns of the state trees were planted. Hon. S. C. Heiskell, of Knoxville, was the orator of the day.
